

DRUMOIG WILDLIFE FORUM NEWSLETTER -REVIEW FOR 2023.

During 2023 there were 6 editions of the newsletter, totalling approximately 119 pages.

We have had regular contributions from:

Alec Burden – brilliant drone pictures

Christine & Paul Edwards

Rob Pirie – our very own “farming correspondent”

Steve Norrie – our resident astronomer

We have also had other contributions from:

John Cuthbertson

Michael & Jeanie Duncan

Derek & Shirley Fegen

Bryan Knight

Euan McGregor

Carolynn Murray

John Rust

Neil Sibbit

Joy Treit

If I have missed anyone out, please accept my abject apologies!

My personal highlight was being invited by the RSPB to submit an entry for their community project competition. Christine Edwards gave me considerable help with the entry form and Kay & I were invited to a reception at the Holyrood parliament. We must have been the only entrant with a zero budget which explains why we didn't get short-listed – that's my story and I'm sticking to it!! Anyway, it was an interesting experience!

Needless to say, to keep the newsletter going we need residents to contribute articles, observations or ideas. So, don't be backward in coming forward!!

Martin Hepworth (Editor)